with the SCDOR

(FORM SC1040ES)

(revised 8/2013)

Where do I go to file and pay SC1040ES, Declaration of Estimated Tax Payments Online?

Visit the SCDOR website at www.sctax.org , then click on DOR ePay

Do I have to have a user account to file and pay?

Yes, a user must first obtain a User ID and Password to use any of the Electronic Systems on the SCDOR Website. For all systems noted above, except Motor Fuel, the same User ID and Password can be used to access the systems. This one-time registration process only takes a few minutes where information is provided by the user including self-chosen User Id and Password, contact information and answers to security questions to help reset a password, if ever needed. Once the user has performed this function the first time, it does not have to be repeated for any system unless the user chooses to use different User IDs and Password for the various systems.

When must my payment be made?

By midnight on the due date

April 15th	June 15th	September 15th	January 15th
------------	-----------	----------------	--------------

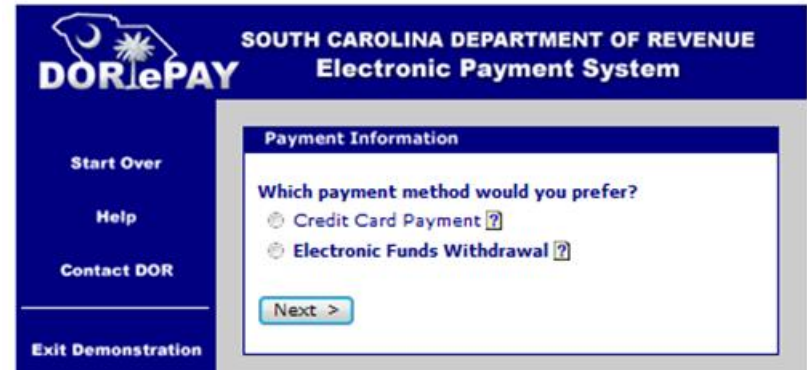

Can I schedule all payments at one time?

Estimated tax payments made for future quarters can be paid by EFW or credit card. Payment by EFW does allow you to set a future date for the payment to be drafted. However, if you pay by credit card, it will result in immediate/next day charges to the taxpayer's credit card for any and all payments scheduled on that date. If you wish to pay future quarterly payments by credit card and you are attempting to spread your liability out over time, you must wait until the actual date you wish for the payment to be charged to submit the payment. Warehousing/scheduling is not available for credit card payments.

What payment options do I have?

Users can pay by

- Credit Card (Master Card or Visa), or
- Electronic Funds Withdrawal (ACH Debit)

Can I view previously made/scheduled payments?

Yes, for each User Id, selecting View Payments on the DOR ePay Home page will provide a screen showing all previous payments and scheduled payments. A specific payment can be selected by clicking on the confirmation number which will show a detailed display of the payment with a link for a printable form.
